WHY ONU LAW?
ONU offers the most unique summer program and personable faculty and staff. Moreover, my visit to the school just felt right; everyone was very warm and inviting and the students seemed to really get along with each other.

WHAT DOES “THE ONU LAW DIFFERENCE” MEAN TO YOU?
The ONU law difference is the difference that our faculty makes in rearing, teaching, and creating opportunities for our students. Their passion for their student’s and the law makes all the difference.

WHAT DOES “THE ONU LAW COMMUNITY” MEAN TO YOU?
“The ONU Law Community” literally means community in the traditional sense. ONU is a place where we all (faculty, students, and staff) work together to create and foster an all-encompassing learning experience; a place where we can come to each other for anything.

DESCRIBE THE IMPACT OF YOUR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE FACULTY
My relationships with faculty members are superb! The faculty at ONU is like no other; they are very personable, accessible, and welcoming. The faculty here is always available to listen and help any way that they can. The relationships you create with your professors are important because these relationships can lead to various opportunities or could be the difference between a good recommendation letter and a great recommendation letter!

HOW HAS LIVING IN ADA SUPPORTED YOUR LEGAL STUDIES?
Living in Ada has enhanced my legal studies because the environment breeds learning opportunities and close-knit relationships with your peers that will be impactful in creating networking opportunities and lasting friendships.

WHAT WAS DIFFICULT ABOUT YOUR TRANSITION INTO LAW SCHOOL?
The most difficult aspect of my transition to law school was moving to Ada and effectively managing my time in a way that allows me to create time for school and play (more school than play).

HAVE YOU PARTICIPATED IN A CLINIC OR EXTERNSHIP?
I have participated in the Public Interest clinic and completed a judicial externship. I look forward to participating in more clinics in the future.

ADVICE FOR STICKING WITH YOUR LAW SCHOOL DECISION
When picking your school, make a decision that is best for you. Take other’s input into consideration but remember that you have to make the final decision as it is you that has to bear the consequences of your decision. Also, be sure to visit the school and speak with both students and faculty. Visiting the institution helps you make an informed decision.

WEBCAST: MAINTAINING A HEALTHY WORK-LIFE BALANCE
To keep a healthy balance between life and law school find something that you really love to do and stick to it. Try to continue to do things that you loved before you entered law school. This will help you have a sense of normalcy and provide you with a healthy outlet.

WHAT ORGANIZATIONS ARE YOU INVOLVED IN?
I volunteer with many organizations. I am most involved in BLSA (Black Law Students Association). I serve on the executive board as the philanthropist chair.

POST GRADUATION PLANS
With my law degree, I plan on changing the world, one client at a time. I have a strong interest in public service but I have not selected a particular area to practice and I am open to any opportunities that may come my way.
